THE CYCLE OF EARTHQUAKES. - Severe earthquakes, almost if not quite simultaneous in their action, occurred last month on several parts of this continent and the opposite sides of the world, in Japan. At Oaxaca, in Mexico, the first convulsion occurred at half-past eleven of the pight of May 11th continuing and the (A). M. Howard, U.S.Sen.; Hon. Lewis Mc-Kenzie; Gen. M. D. Allowing for differences of longitude and time, these earthquake shocks were at most of the bours apart, and the bours apart and the bours apart, and the bours apart, and the bours apart, and the bours apart, and the bours apart apart apart and the bours apart but a few hours apart, and in all probability identical in point of time. At Oaxaca, which is a substantially built town, two hundred years old, heavy convent and palace walls and towers were shaken into ruins, killing and maiming many unfortunate people.

Two hundred miles out from Yokohama, to the southwest, the captain of the Benefactress observed a submarine volcano, in violent cruption, and the volcano on the island of Niphon, in Japan, was in the same state. It will be remembered that on the 12th of May an earthquake shock was felt in Perryville Alabama, Charleston, South Carolina, Shreveport, Louisiana. There were shocks in Arkansas on the 11th of May, and in the French West India island of Guadaloupe on the 10th. But the

C.& O. RAILROAD. - The vigorous manner in which the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company have gone to work on the western end of their great road has stimulated the public spirit all along the line of the work from the Ohio to the White Sulphur. The coal companies are looking about to make preparations for working their rich coal mines by the time the road is finished. A large part of the coal basin on the Kanawha river will be penetrated by the road the present year. One or two of the larger companies, whose mines have been hardly opened, have already approached the Chesapeake and Ohio company upon the subject of terms of transportation of coal to this It is this heavy sort of freight that will force the company to continue their line from Clifton Forge along the river via Lynchburg to this city. The hills of Bath are an insuperable barrier to its transportation at reasonable rates by the present route through

Property of all kinds along the line has advanced in value, but particularly coal lands. Those which were sold fifteen years since at from fifty cents to two dollars and three dollars per acre, now run high up in the tens-some having, it is reported, gone up to fifty dollars per acre. In a few years they will be up in the

These effects will appear in due time all along the line from the Ohio to Richmond .-Rich. Dis.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT DURING THE SUMMER .- In event of Congress holding to its present resolution to adjourn on July 15th, the President will not remove his household to his seaside cottage at Long Branch until after that time. Should the day of adjournment be extended he will take his family and servants to the seaside before the 15th, and leave them there while he returns to await the dissolution of Congress. During the latter portion of July, all of August and a portion of September, therefore, the Executive Mansion will be abondoned for the more healthful and agreeable breezes of the sea. One Secretary and a portion of the ushers and Mansion police will remain in the building as a guard. The President will take with him all his family servants and Mehler, the steward of the Mansion, also his horses. Most of his time will be passed at Long Branch, though several excursions are talked of during the season of recreation. The President will adopt the same rule in regard to public business as he did last year, visiting the Capital when the exigencies of public business require, or at least every two weeks, in order to keep himself advised of the public business.

INTEREST ON CANAL COUPONS.-Upon an examination of the opinion of the Court of Appeals, as recently delivered by Mr. Justice Miller, in the case of Virginia vs. the Chesapeak and Ohio Canal Company and others, we perceive that the Court adopt (instead of rejecting, as we were informed) the rule, lately declared in a series of cases by the Supreme Court of the U. S. that interest is recoverable upon dishonored overdue coupons from their maturity, and accordingly decide in this case that the holders of the outstanding coupons upon the bonds of the Canal Company have a valid claim against the Company for such interest. They, however, also decide that this claim is not entitled to be paid out of the revenues of the Company in priority to the revenues of the Company in priority to the liens of the State of Maryland as second mortgagee, for the reason that, by the true con- Holsatia. struction of the act of 1844, ch. 281, under which the bonds were issued, the State only waived her prior liens in favor of the bonds and simple interest thereon. - Baltimore Gaz.

SENSIBLE FASHION .-- It is said that freek les are coming into fashion-a most sensible tashion it is, too; for the prevention of them has caused untold disease among our ladies. In order to keep their skin white they keep out of the sun light, the great source of health, and shut themseves up in dark rooms inducing scrofula in its numberless forms. In consequence of this deprivation of light and fresh air the women of America too often pass lives of misery and drop into the grave before their time. We are sure that every good brown freckle would add at least a week, if not a month, to the life of many of our women, and good health make their dispositions sweeter and render them better wives and mothers.

We therefore hail this new fashion, and we hope that hereafter the girl with the most freekles will stand the best chance of getting a good husband.-Norfolk Journal.
